

10. SUPERVISION SERVICES

Great part of the Deltamarin personnel has experience from working at shipyards in various positions. For us this is valuable potential not only for the design work, but it gives a possibility to offer qualified supervision services for owners and shipyards.

We can provide personnel e.g. for following tasks at the shipyard:

- team leaders
- area managers
- foremen
- inspectors
- quality managers
- project managers
- liaison persons
- turnkey supervisors
- co-ordinators

The supervisors are always chosen according to the task in question, whether it requires skills in welding, quality assurance or any other shipyard activity. Our personnel have knowledge in languages and are also used to work in different cultural and technological environments.

The duration of the commission may be from individual inspection jobs to very long-term contracts through the whole newbuilding project. The content of the task will always be tailored to suit the needs of the client.

The supervisors are always backed up by the extensive statistics and references of the whole Deltamarin organisation. This gives extra value to the client, when commissioning Deltamarin personnel for supervision duties.
